Design your Funky Hut

Each hut is bespoke designed to accommodate your requirements. You have options when it comes to utilities included, overall layout, colours, finishes and furnishings.

From your very first planning appointment, we will take time to understand your wants and needs and how you will be using your hut. We can then custom design elements of your plan using bespoke joinery, storage solutions, and utilities and curate interior options from our range of suppliers.

There is no one-size-fits-all plan with a Funky Hut.

Colour choices

What sets us apart is our build-to-order model. We craft each hut to your design and taste preferences, including exterior and interior paint options.

Colour is key when designing a space that feels truly you, so why limit your options. If you have a must-have colour palette in mind, let us know. We can source many major brands of paint including Farrow and Ball and Lick.

Interior design

The Sonny – a case study

Take a closer look inside one of our hut's interiors. This Sonny was custom designed by our team to achieve a fully finished interior fit.

We opted for a light, contemporary farmhouse interior. Choosing tongue and groove boarding with earthy paint tones and exposed wooden surfaces gave us a calm and luxurious base. We added in some modern charm with brass fixtures, fittings, and classic area lighting options. Softening it all up with voiles, cushions, and patterned bedding to curate a truly relaxing home away from home.

Our team can take you right up to completion with our interior recommendations and a network of suppliers for fittings, fixtures and lighting.
